Supporting pharmacists with the new Pharmacy Contraception Service

As a follow-up, we wanted to share some useful Organon educational resources to support your conversations with clients engaging with the new Pharmacy Contraception Service (PCS).

These proved very popular assets at the LPC's first CPCF upskilling session at WBA in June.

From Debbie Berrios-Silva

Please see below and attached PDFs.

Our Talk Contraception poster, (TC PDF, attached) details all the different methods of contraception. Having this whilst counselling can mean you can refer to the method and she can see, as well as hear about her options.

If you have opportunity to send this by text message prior to her consultation, she can check out her options before her appt and may have ideas on what she is interested in, rather than having to discuss ALL the different methods. This might then result in a more tailored appt and also save HCP consultation time.

Our HCP LARC discussion flow was created with insights from HCPs to help facilitate effective contraceptive counselling.

You'll see we've moved away from stats and numbers and provided easy observational questions that can quickly help the HCP and her understand whether a user-dependant or long acting/fit and forget method might best suit her needs and lifestyle.

Please note: PDF versions of our Talk Contraception tear-off pads are not currently available, though they were the most popular resource at the events.
